We are investigating a burglary at a ground-floor flat in London Road, St Leonards-on-Sea, in which intruders stole a large glass jar containing silver change to an estimated value of £500. It happened at approximately 2.30am on Sunday (4 August) while the occupants, a man and a woman, were asleep in bed.

Neither was hurt but the suspects were found to have made off with the jar and cash contents.

Detective Constable Cally Fox, investigating, said: "Given its size and contents the jar would have been extremely heavy and we'd like to hear from anyone who may have seen people in the area carrying it away."
